

GOOD JUDGMENT
FIFTH GRADE

Objective:

To use literature in teaching students to think before they act, and to make good choices.

Materials: Book Enemy Pie by Derek Munson
Good Judgment poster

Activity:

1) Introduce yourself to the class and explain that you are the Panther Pride Reader for Good Judgment.

2) Ask: What is good judgment? Children brainstorm definitions. Share poster and discuss.

1) What does good judgment mean?

- making good choices
- thinking before you act
- Choosing worthy goals and setting proper priorities.
- Thinking through the consequences of your actions.
- Basing decisions on practical wisdom and good sense.

Examples- coming to school, taking care of our bodies, listening to the teacher, following directions

3) Introduce book: Enemy Pie by Derek Munson

Ask children what they think this book will be about. Ask them to look at the cover and make a prediction about what will happen in the story.

4) Read book aloud.

5) Ask the class: What was the Enemy Pie recipe?

Cherry pie!

6) Why did his dad want him to spend the day with his enemy, Jeremy Ross?

to see that he is not an enemy, they would have fun together, to get along

7) What do you think would happen if you spent a day with someone you were not getting along with?

8) How does this story connect with our character trait Good Judgment?

Evaluation:

9) Ask the class to share a time they had to make a hard decision.

Students can share times they showed good judgment and were able to think before they acted. (Sharing their toys, being polite to friends and grown-ups, coming to school, using good problem solving skills)
